Pre-College Summer at UConn

Rising high school juniors and seniors will experience an exciting week at a top-ranked college campus exploring interesting non-credit subjects, collaborating and socializing with other talented students.

2014 Pre-College Summer at UConn’s Storrs Campus!

Participants will be immersed in the rich intellectual tradition of the University of Connecticut. In addition to a more intense academic experience in a content area selected by each student, the weekly schedule will include special presentations, speakers, campus events and social activities for both overnight and commuter participants.

SUMMER 2014

July 27th - August 2nd
or
August 3rd - August 9th
2014 Pre-College Summer at UConn

Session I: July 27 - August 2
or
Session II: August 3 – August 9

Participants will experience college level academics in a content area of their choice. Through projects and other real world applications, they will gain insight into various careers that are possible in their content area. Experiential learning about post-secondary transitions is proven to increase social and academic success!

Choose from one of these academic areas, taught with a creative and engaging approach by UConn's world class faculty:

- SOCIOLOGY: seen through the eyes of Sherlock Holmes
- STATISTICS: sorting through the deluge of Big Data
- ENGLISH: journeys and monsters in essay and poem
- PSLA: the sustainable living experience
- DIGITAL MEDIA: game design and digital humanities
